LPPD steps up recruiting efforts

Like many agencies in Harris and the surrounding counties, the La Porte Police Department is seeking professional, highly qualified candidates to join our family. We hope to accomplish this by casting a wide net to attract a diverse and talented field of applicants.

LPPD ramped up recruiting efforts by making modifications to the police department website to include, minimizing clicks to access information and creating a direct link to the online application. Recruiters are visiting academies and college campuses throughout our region and beyond. We are proactive in reaching out to our military veterans, giving them opportunities to continue their service locally. Our most visible change is the added decals to all marked patrol cars which read LAPORTEPDCAREERS.COM.

If you are interested, we want to speak with you!

If you know of a motivated professional police officer or academy cadet, please contact the La Porte Police Department's Recruiting Division.

In addition to officers, we often have employment opportunities for dispatchers, jailers and other support staff.
